JUDGEMENT

The Court in reviewing the Respondent's request to turn over the files of Jennifer Williams to the Respondent hereby denies that said request. In denying said request, it is clear that the prior Court recognized the potential conflict of interest in this between both mother and father and the minor child and entered its order recognizing the attorney-client privilege between the minor children and their duly appointed counsel. This Court feels that it is entirely inappropriate to violate the attorney-client privilege between the parties.

Dated this 15th day of September, 2021.

Judge Gary A. Kamp
